Princess Kawananakoa has deferred her departure for the mainland until the early part of August, when she will leave on the Kurea. Meanwhile, Prince and Princess Kawananakoa, who will spend the summer and fall with Prince and Princess Kahanamoku. Princess Kawananakoa may visit London during the winter season.

Doctor High and Frank E. Thompson returned yesterday from Hawaii. Mrs. High and sister, Miss Lucy Roth, will remain at the Volcano House for a month longer.

Mrs. Mist, Miss Edith Mist, Miss Edith Meier, Robert Mist, Mrs. von Tempelky and Miss von Tempelky form a party which will leave this month, either on the Sierra or on the Wilhelm, for the mainland, where they will remain a few months. Miss Meier, granddaughter of Mrs. Mist, will shortly return to her home in Bremen, after a stay in Honolulu of a year.

On the spacious lawn of Kawaiaho Seminary on Thursday the wedding of Miss Jessie S. McCormick to Chester J. Hunn was solemnized by the Rev. A. A. Elerside. The central staircase, before which the contracting parties stood was a massive bank of ferns and palms, tastefully forming a pretty background for the ceremony. The two-ring Episcopal service was used, both the bride and the groom being unattended. Since the parents were unable to be present, the wedding was very private, the bride being given away by Francis Damm. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Agnes Judd, a schoolmate of the groom's grandmother. After the ceremony the newly married couple and the guests enjoyed a lightly appointed luncheon, interrupted by the pair stealing away, much to the consternation of the guests, who thought to speed them on their way. The luncheon will be served at Wanda's, the summer home of Arthur Wall, on the windward side of the island. After the first of September the young couple will be at home in one of the federal experiment station bungalows on the slopes of Tantalus. The bride graduated from the University of California with the class of 1908, and in the same year the groom received his degree at Cornell University. Miss McCormick has been the popular teacher of music and literature at Kawaiaho Seminary for the past two years, and was recently elected secretary of the College Club. Mr. Hunn is assistant horticulturist at the federal experiment station and has taken an active interest in U. M. C. A. affairs.

At a luncheon given on Wednesday by Mrs. Walter Cumbs, the engagement was announced of Miss Genevieve Langston to Charles Bennett. Only the intimate friends of the bride-elect were invited and the announcement was the signal for a shower of hearty congratulations. The groom-to-be arrived on the Asia but the full plans for the wedding have not yet been made. After the wedding the young couple are planning to spend the coming winter in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Princess Kawananakoa was the complimentary guest at a dainty dinner given at the Pleasanton on Monday evening at which covers were laid for the Princess, Miss Mary Low, Doctor and Mrs. Philip Enar, Doctor and Mrs. Hobbs, Captain Foster and Doctor Hodgins.

Mrs. Robert Shingle and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane have issued invitations for a dance to be given in honor of their sister, Miss Beatrice Campbell, on Tuesday evening, at the Moana Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Castle motored over to the other side of the island on the Fourth to spend the day with Mrs. James Castle.

Captain and Mrs. Marx chaperoned a party of young people at a dinner given on the Chattanooga on Monday evening at which covers were laid for sixteen guests.

Mrs. Arthur Brown was the hostess on Tuesday at an informal bridge whist party in honor of Mrs. Hyde-Smith. Pretty prizes were awarded for each table at which the following guests played: Mrs. Hyde-Smith, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Mary Gunn, Mrs. Harold Dillingham, Mrs. Byron Baird, Mrs. J. S. Walker, Mrs. Arthur Wilber, and Miss Helen Kitchell.

Mrs. Jack Burch was the hostess on Thursday at a pretty luncheon given in compliment to Princess Kawananakoa who was her schoolmate at Notre Dame Academy. Covers were laid for Mrs. Burch and her guest of honor, Mrs. Robert Shingle. Mrs. Shingle, Mrs. Frederick Damm, Mrs. Ada Rhodes and Miss Beatrice Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Damm entertained on Monday evening with a pretty little dinner party for six.

On Monday evening, July 18, at eight-thirty, Miss Thora Olga Oss and Clinton H. Traub will be married in Central Union Church. There will be no bridesmaid, but the maid of honor will be Miss Katherine McCarthy, and two little flower girls, Alice Denson and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Schmidt will also be in attendance. The best man will be Carl B. Andrews and the ushers, Messrs. John T. Fleming, C. J. Jonathan Austin, Wilfred Greenwell and Harry Ryeroff. There will be no reception but a wedding supper will be given for the bridal party. The bride and groom leave the following day on the Moana Koa for a month's honeymoon on Hawaii.

Chronicle—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton will leave next week for Santa Barbara, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Broderick, who will occupy Mrs. Butters' cottage for the season.

Princess Kawananakoa—The close of Mrs. Tara McGraw's honeymoon finds her again in the whirl of the social world. Evidently she means to keep up her reputation for the originality of her entertainments, which are never like those of any other members of her set or of any set for that matter.

Some time this afternoon, late, when the sun is low, the Prince and Princess Kawananakoa, both of King of Serbia, the center of her dining table was adorned with huge blocks of ice in the shape of pyramids of Egypt. This was at the time she was Mrs. Scott-Grant and was in the matrimonial market.

The Prince was very attentive to her and their engagement was supposed to be a settled thing. The charming Mrs. Scott-Grant, however, did not marry him. Instead she married Tarn McGraw, a young Hawaiian.

Miss Beatrice Campbell was the guest of honor during the week at a beautiful luncheon given at the Youngs Street residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth. Miss Amy Stratmeyer, Mrs. Chillingworth's sister, was the hostess and presided at a table beautifully decorated with margarites and ferns. Covers were laid for Miss Beatrice Campbell, Miss Amy Stratmeyer, Miss Sybil Winter, Miss Grace Robertson, Miss Lillian Robertson, Miss Henrietta Smith and Miss Ella Murray.

S. F. Bulletin—General Thomas H. Barry, accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Barry and his aide-de-camp, Captain Robert Davis, returned yesterday after a week's stay in the Yosemite, which well deserves the name of "Wonderland."

Unfortunately for San Francisco General Barry will leave early in August for West Point. He and his delightful family added greatly to last winter's festivities.

Chronicle—Mrs. E. D. Tenney of Honolulu, accompanied by her son and daughter, arrived at the Fairmont yesterday.

Mrs. C. G. Ballentyne was the hostess on Friday at a bridge whist party given in compliment to Mrs. Gray and Miss Gray of Los Angeles, California, two winter visitors here who are to go on to Australia the last of this month. Those present were Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. Arthur Marx, Mrs. Alan Bottomley, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Frederick Damm, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Ballentyne, Mrs. Hornberger, Miss Katherine Stephens, Miss Blair, Miss Lucas and Miss Gray.

Chronicle—Mrs. Wallace Alexander was hostess at a pretty luncheon at the Palace Thursday which she gave in honor of her daughter, Mrs. John Waterhouse Jr. of Honolulu. Among her guests were Mrs. Irving Lundborg, Mrs. Thomas Barber, Mrs. Daniel Bollen, Mrs. Pischel, Mrs. Whipple Hall, Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. Walter Starr, Miss Emma Grimwood, Miss Elsie Marwood, Miss Mona Griffin and Miss Lillian Downey.

Doctor and Mrs. Judd gave a dinner on Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Judd. The table was beautifully decorated with sprays of golden shower and the same flowers were used throughout the rooms. Covers were laid for Doctor and Mrs. Judd, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Judd, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dillingham, Miss Annie Graham and George Fuller.

Argonauts—Mrs. C. H. Holbrook and her daughter, Mrs. D. Holbrook Hare, will leave on the Mariposa June 29 for Tahiti and the South Sea Islands. They will also visit New Zealand and Australia, returning home via Honolulu late in September.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Castle are receiving the hearty congratulations of their friends upon the arrival of a little son who put in his appearance on Friday.

Argonauts—Lieutenant Prentiss Bassett, U. S. N., and Mrs. Bassett (formerly Miss Henrietta von Schrader) are established in their new home at the Charleston Navy Yard.

Among the arrivals during the week none are receiving a more hearty welcome than Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham. Mrs. Dillingham as Miss Louise Gaylord, made a score of warm friends during a visit here last year.

Chronicle—Marshall Darnach, acknowledged to be the finest interpreter of the bard of Avon, who has won new laurels in the Orient, where he has been received as enthusiastically as he was in San Francisco, is expected to return to us in the early winter, when he will again be the guest of the Bohemian Club.

Mrs. Frederick Ramsey, wife of Captain Ramsey, entertained with a luncheon on Friday in honor of Mrs. Van Every and her niece, Miss Cates.

Chronicle—Mr. and Mrs. Allen Macdonald (Suzanne Kirkpatrick) have returned to their home in Presidio Terrace after having spent a few days at Pleasanton with Colonel and Mrs. J. C. Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Byron K. Baird, who has been the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Wilbur, the wife of Captain Wilbur of Fort Rager, will leave on Tuesday for her home on Hawaii.

Call—Rear Admiral Uriel Solove has gone to Colorado to join Mrs. Solove, who will remain there during the summer. Admiral Solove has had an interesting visit of several weeks in the East and was entertained extensively by the army set in Washington. He was the guest of relatives for a time at his former home in Missouri and received an enthusiastic greeting from his old friends in that State. During the greater part of his stay Admiral Solove was with his son, Jack Solove, who is a young electrical engineer in Utah, and who has a host of friends who were anxious to entertain for the distinguished visitor.

On Sunday evening Captain and Mrs. Marx were the host and hostess at a pretty little dinner given in compliment to their niece, Miss Katherine Stephens. The table was decorated with margarites and covers were laid for ten.
